Joe the Greaser Tells of Serving Unions-Admits Part in Murder.

the Greaser" and as Joe Rosen, who for five years was a strikebreaking rival of "Dopey Benny" Fein, has confessed to District Attorney Perkins. He pleaded gullty last night to manslaughter in the first degree before Justice Shearn in the Supreme Court. Criminal Term. He will be used as a vitness by the State and is expected to give valuable information concerning the way labor unions hired thugs to drive non-union workers away from jobs. The gangster has made a long statement to Assistant District Attorney Breckinridge and will supplement this next week. Later he will be taken before the Grand Jury.

Fein and Rosen once worked together, but the two quarrelled and were rivals when Fein was arrested.

Rosen was back of the killing of Philip Paul, known as "Pinchey," in front of 109 Norfolk street, on May 11 last. The actual shooting was done by Benny Snyder, a gangster who served Rosen. Snyder was arrested. He pleaded guilty to manslaughter in the first degree and is now in the Tombs awaiting sentence. Snyder made a conawaiting sentence. Snyder made a confession in which he told of his dealings

When Rosen pleaded guilty before Justice Shearn he denied that he had told Snyder to kill Paul, but said that Paul was to be killed.

Mr. Manton was not prepared yesterday to say anything for publication regarding Becker's plans. It was said at his office that he had gone to the country and would not return until early next week.

There is no doubt in the minds of many who have followed the Becker case that the former police lieutenant has a fund of information concerning graft and bribery which he could disclose if he wanted to. But the feeling

BECKER STILL SEES

Believes Men Who Testified Against Him May Yet Come to His Aid.

Charles Becker still cherishes a faint hope that he may not have to go to the chair. Father Cashin, chaplain at Sing Sing, said last night after a talk with the condemned man that Becker believes something will turn up that will save him-at least give his lawyers more time to act in his behalf. His hope rests on the consciences of the witnesses who testified against him at

According to Father Cashin Becker is buoyed by the belief that some of the men—he did not mention names—who perjured themselves at his trials will come forward with information that will help him escape death. Becker is confident that these witnesses will come to his rescue so heroically and markity. his rescue so heroically and manfully that Gov. Whitman will be forced morally to grant him a reprieve. One other point Father Cashin made plain was that Becker would not "squeal" all assertions that he would notwithstanding. The chaptain intimated that Becker had no material on which to base a "squeal."

That Mrs. Becker hasn't quite abandoned all hope, also, was indicated visconial to the standard of the stand

"And I wish to add that if I am quoted in the future about this case you may rest assured that whatever I am made to say is false. I haven't given any interviews on the things that I've been quoted as saying and I shall not graft and bribery which he could dis-close if he wanted to. But the feeling grows stronger among those interested that Becker realizes his disclosures would be useless, what with District Attorney Perkins's positive statement that he will not bargain with Becker and the facts that the statute of limita-tions and the lack of the necessary corroboration of his charges are working to make his accusations worthless.

Consequently it is believed that he will go to the chair with all the silent stoicism that has marked him through-out his troubles. But until the Becker lawyers have made a definite decision as to what action, if any, is to be taken the conjectures concerning what Becker will or will not do must be taken as conjectures and nothing more.
